There are grounds for suspicion that an attempt was made to assassinate Hon. Charles J. Bronston, at the station at Kinkead on the Q.& C. railroad last Saturday evening. I'm for you even if you did send me to the pen for seven years."

Mr. Bronston said: "I asked him his name and he re used to give it, but said that he had killed a man in Scott county. I then recalled the murder and recognized nim as James Sallee, who, with another man named Robert True, had shot to deate a man named Robinson after he had put them out of church, where they were misbehaving.

"The Q. & C. train came in about this time and I got aboard, going to the chair car. I noticed that Sallee went forward and boarded the smoker. After going some distance me that a drunken fellow was at the car platform asking to see me. I said I would not see him, and the porter locked the door. He then stood on the piatform and beat upon the door, and shouted until the little station of Kinkead was reached. Here he got off and asked the conductor where I was. To get him out of the way, I suppose, the latter told him that I had gone to the front car. He then walked forward to the smoker and fired three shots through it.
